Platinum Asia Investments Limited ASX: PAI

MONTHLY REPORT 31 March 2024

MARKET UPDATE AND COMMENTARY

- The portfolio returned +2.0% for March 2024 and +1.6% for the rolling 12 months.
- This compares to the MSCI All Country Asia ex Japan Index (AUD) that returned 2.3% for March 2024.
- Our investments in South Korean chip companies were the main contributor to performance, followed by our Chinese holdings.
- Even though valuations in the Chinese market are back to GFC lows, we're very careful when selecting investments in China. We're looking for domestic champions with low levels of debt at compelling valuations.

Performance Analysis*

Our South Korean holdings contributed 1.1% to the portfolio's monthly return, led by the chip companies, SK Hynix and Samsung Electronics Co. This is the primary way we are playing the AI thematic. When a multipurpose technology such as AI (like the introduction of the internet and data on mobiles) it is important to pay attention because it will have widespread applications. However, it is very difficult to determine who will profit from the technology in the early stages of adoption. By investing in the chip companies that service a variety of technology/application companies, we're investing in the "picks and shovels" - the beneficiaries of the increased spend on AI rather than trying to pick one or two technology/application companies that may - or may not - win the AI race.

Chinese holdings contributed 0.8% to the monthly return. JD.com was the best performing Chinese stock in the portfolio, contributing 0.65%. JD.com is one of China's top three e-commerce platforms and is a good example of how extreme valuations have become. E-commerce in China has a very high penetration rate, approximately 30% of retail sales are online. This compares to America in the high teens and Australia in the low teens. JD.com's revenue is derived from China's domestic market, so is largely insulated from any potential geopolitical escalation or introduction of tariffs. The business generated US$3.3bn in net profit last year and its market capitalisation is almost entirely covered by its cash holdings, i.e. an investor can buy this company and get the highly profitable operating business for almost nothing.

It's important to note that we are very careful when selecting investments in China. We're looking for well-run companies with strong moats, low levels of debt and attractive valuations. We prefer domestically focussed businesses such as JD.com because we believe they are better insulated from geopolitical tensions. Having said that, we also own world leading companies such as CATL that produce low cost batteries for EVs.

As at the end of March 2024, the portfolio has a high net invested position, approximately 93%, comprising of no shorts and around 7% cash. This reflects our high levels of conviction in the stocks in our portfolio and the very low valuations we are seeing in the region. This presents a very compelling investment opportunity for true long-term investors.

An attractively valued portfolio

The portfolio's aggregate valuation metrics are attractive in both an absolute sense and relative to the market, with a ~19% higher earnings yield and ~7% discount to book value (see table below).

Metric	Platinum Asia Investments Limited	MSCI AC Asia Ex Japan Index (A$)
NTM Earnings Yield	9.3% (Price to earnings ratio 10.8x)	7.8% (Price to earnings ratio 12.8x)
NTM Dividend Yield	3.0%	3.0%
NTM Enterprise Value-to-Sales	1.3x	1.5x
LTM Price-to-Book Ratio	1.4x	1.5x

The valuations in the table have been calculated by Platinum and refer to the long portion of the portfolio, exclude negative net earnings and use FactSet consensus earnings. MSCI data is sourced from Rimes, FactSet and Platinum. As at 31 March 2024. NTM = next twelve months.

LTM = last twelve months.
